Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-74, drawn to encoding data sets at a second device "...with a compression function to generate an encoded data set, the compression function and the second device transmitting/communicating a expansion function to the first device where the first device receives the encoded data and expands the encoded data set using the expansion function ..." which is classified in class 707 subclass 101.
- II. Claims 75-82, drawn to compressing/encoding web pages structure using a compression function by removing the structures which are common to multiple web pages and expanding the encoded web page structure using the expansion function which is classified in class 709, subclass 247.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

The use of group I is separately implementable from the invention set forth in Group II, as well the converse. That is, the use of Group I, providing encoding of data sets using a compression function and expanding the encoded data sets using the expansion function, is independent from encoding web pages structure using a compression function by removing the structure data of a web pages in Group II. See the mapping of the claims to the drawings below:

Art Unit: 2144

Group I

Claim 1, A system, comprising:

a first device configured to request a data set having a plurality of individual records, the individual records having information to describe data in the data set;

a second device configured to receive the request and encode the data set with a compression function to generate an encoded data set, the compression function determined from information that is common to the individual records in the data set;

the second device further configured to communicate an expansion function to the first device, the expansion function including the information that is common to the individual records in the data set; and the first device further configured to receive the encoded data set and expand the encoded data set with the expansion function, wherein individual records in the encoded data set are expanded to include the common information.

Claim 75, A method, comprising: determining a compression function for multiple Web pages having a common configuration defined by structure data;
generating an encoded Web page structure using the compression function by removing the structure data that is common to the multiple Web pages; and determining an expansion function for the encoded Web page structure, the expansion function including the structure data that is common to the multiple Web pages.

Conclusion

2. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 2144
